Director Garrett informed the Board that the office conducted its regular post-election activities, including preparing for the Risk Limiting Audit on Thursday July 24, 2025 at 10:00 AM in the Election's Office instead of the library due to the election's low turnout.

Director Garrett updated the Board on the City of Tyrone with the information that she met with Tyrone's City Manager and determined that in the event that Tyrone continues to be an early voting location, the Tyrone City Hall will temporarily be used to conduct Advance Voting in the November General Election.

Director Garrett reports that on Election Day, voting will still be held in the Tyrone Library for that one day, ensuring that Tyrone can use their library as a resource for the community.

Director Garrett informed the Board that due to the Tyrone Library not being the normal voting location, a hearing will need to be held in August to move the location to the Tyrone Library for Election Day.

Director Garrett reported that the office participated in Bounce 'N' Bubbles: The Block Party, a community event hosted by Melanin Mediums LLC, on Saturday, July 12, 2025, at Shamrock Park in Tyrone by hosting a booth to provide information on voter registration.

Director Garrett highlighted the Election Office's summer intern, Moussa Z. who is now working on increasing community awareness of elections.

Director Garrett reports that there has been no new updates on the Elections Office expansion, with no move out date of the Georgia Public Defenders announced.
